

SEDONA, AZ—MARCH 2007—Condor Storage, a national integrator specializing in data storage and data protection solutions, announced that its President Jeanne Wilson has been selected to present at the Data Protection Summit 2007 being held March 12-15 in Irvine, CA.

Condor Storage will feature three premium vendors: Nexsan, Qualstar and Sony/Intradyne. Ms. Wilson will explain where each vendor serves the distinct tiers in the data protection space; data security, email archiving and data replication for disaster recovery. “The concept for DPS 2007 is timely. Our company advocates strongly on our customer’s behalf. Our delivery is modeled on cutting through the confusing chatter in the storage marketplace. We selectively partner only with those vendors who uphold that belief, deliver superior and stable products and above all bring to market solutions that protect my customers’ precious data 24/7,” Wilson said.

Nexsan develops and markets secure storage appliances and modular, high capacity disk storage systems for a broad range of applications including fixed content storage and archiving, compliance and litigation support, primary storage, disk-based backup, digital video security, medical imaging, and rich media. Nexsan will present several systems in Condor’s booth; the Beast, the Assureon and Sblade Units.

Qualstar’s Simply Reliable Automated Tape Library Families provide backup, archive storage, and disaster protection for thousands of customers around the clock, worldwide. Debuting Qualstar’s new “XLS” enterprise library, Condor will distribute a free white paper illustrating the product “green value” and how denser spatial designs and significant energy savings offer a leg up over manufacturers. From 12-6000 slot solutions, partnering with Qualstar covers any sized business backup needs.

Sony/Intradyne Email archiving is the primary email management challenge facing businesses today. The ComplianceVault™ captures all of a user company’s email on a continuous basis. The ComplianceVault™ is geared toward small to medium businesses and is a turnkey solution.

Jeanne Wilson is an industry professional with over two decades of experience in data protection. A strong customer advocate, she will be available in Booth # 16 along with representatives from each vendor. Stop by the Condor Storage booth for interactive demonstrations and field your storage integration questions with Ms. Wilson.
